To Total Protection Solutions Canada:

I received a call one Wednesday morning from an ecstatic client; she went on to share with me that a house blew up on Central Ave in London and all her neighbors TV's & computers were affected by a large surge. My client's very expensive computers were not affected, the only house on her street!!! She was wondering if it was because our electricians installed a home surge protection on her panel the Friday before. Yes was my answer!!! I have vowed never to leave a homeowner without the option of adding surge protection. I feel it is my responsibility as an electrical sales person to help the homeowner protect their equipment, also had a Total Protection Solutions Surge Protection installed in my own home.
